Friday, September 3, 1869.

The high rate of taxation results from the debt of the war. The debt is the result of the war. The war was fought for the cause of the oppressed. Therefore the Radical Democracy is responsible for the high rate of taxation under which the country now labors.—Standard.

The above from the Standard is as luminous a piece of logic as ever dazzled the countenance of a big man. The high rate of taxation results from the debt. If that debt had been honestly contracted for a legal purpose, honest men would not be grumbling at the tax. Necessary to pay it. But is that so? even viewing the question from a Radical standpoint. It cannot be denied that a great amount of the expenditures were unnecessary. That contracts were obtained by covin and fraud, which caused a debt to be made in four years, rather than England accumulated almost as many hundreds. But how is the Democracy responsible for it? With the election of Lincoln that party went out of power, and have not had the slightest interest in the Government since. But "the war resulted from the course pursued by the Radical Democracy" leaving out the last word in that sentence the assertion is true, but as it stands it is a stupid blunder. Had Frederick been elected there would have been no war, for in that case the constitution would have been preserved and there would have been no cause for it. Even if the Radical had have minded their own business and let other people's alone, the "little unpleasantness" would never have occurred. The South has always been Conservative, and looked to the Constitution as their guide—the Constitution that Washington and his rebel co-partisans made—and it was the total disregard of this sacred instrument by the Radical Republicans, which gave to their friends not only the opportunity to steal and plunder as bunnies, but to contract by fraud and robbery, the ruinous taxes under which we are now groaning.

THE DISTRICT CONFERENCE.

We learn, through a friend, that the Conference for the District of Shelby, in the South Carolina Conference, was held last week at Yorkville, S. C. This Presiding Elder's District embraces a large area, extending to Lenoir, thence to Morganton and Rutherford, and down to Charlotte and York. There were present at the meeting, delegates from the various stations and circuits, and several visiting ministers and laymen, among the latter Prof. Carlin, of Wofford College, S. C. The meeting was harmonious, and several reports of great interest on the following subjects were read, viz: "The state of the Church, Finance, Sunday Schools, Church Literature and Education."

These reports are likely to be published for general circulation in the Church.

In the absence of Bishop Wightman, Rev. J. W. North, P. E. presided. The various pulpits in the town were filled by ministers in attendance.

The following lay delegates were elected to attend the next annual Conference to be held at Cheraw, S. C.: Dr. J. M. Butt, J. W. Sidney, J. C. Jenkins, P. B. Darwin, J. C. Eggle, Dr. W. J. T. Miller, Dr. P. Sherrill, and Dr. W. M. Walker.

The Baltimore Gazette correspondent says:

"A few days ago, a man, who had been made by the Department (some of them in Baltimore), and a man who had been before the United States Courts. They have all been compromised by the Bureau, the solicitor of the war, formerly a partner of Mr. Delano's."

To carry out Mr. Delano's policy still further, it might be well for the Government to employ somebody to watch Mr. Delano, and to ascertain the nature of the compromises by which large distilleries and thousands of dollars worth of tobacco and liquors have been released from seizure.

The crowd at the White Sulphur Springs is thinning out. The night is quite cool there now.

STATE NEWS.

SOME CORN.—Our Senior was the recipient, yesterday, of a present of large and well filled roasting ears, being the second crop from the same seed—Extra early corn—and grown by Mr. J. E. Whitfield in his garden in this city. Mr. W. states that he had roasting ears in market from the first planting on the 1st of June, and that the second crop, from the same seed, of which the ears above alluded to are a specimen, was planted on the 1st of July.—Star.

STRUCK BY LIGHTNING.—During the heavy storm which prevailed in this city Monday afternoon, the electric field struck the gasometer of the gas house, luckily, however, not doing much damage.—Id.

MR. A. MOORE, a young lawyer of Kinston, has been arrested charged with complicity in the bridge murders last winter, in which several persons were taken from Kinston jail; brutally murdered, and their bodies thrown off the bridge into Neuse river.

FINISHED.—The trotting track in the Rail Grounds is completed. It is a stretch of half a mile in length, is thirty-six feet wide, and finished off in excellent style. We understand parties go out to the grounds for pleasure drives, in the pleasant afternoons.—Id.

SENATOR ABBOTT, of North Carolina, is engaged to play "Bob Acres" at a theatre in Raleigh.—Exchange.

We thought he had gone North to play "purr" for Senator Sprague.

PROPERTY CHANGING HANDS.—It is wonderful to note the very large amount of property which has changed hands in this city since the war. The effects of the struggle have told fearfully upon our people; old debts have weighed heavily upon them, and oppressive taxation and ruinous legislation have done the rest. Those who were rich are now poor, and in the generality of cases those who were poor are now poorer. But the energy of our people cannot be entirely crushed; their recuperative faculty will carry them on to prosperity and they will gain what they have lost.

THE FISHERIES OF OUR COAST.—While the crops have to a great extent proved failures, it is pleasing to know that the fisheries on the coast in the vicinity of this city promise to prove quite profitable during the season which has now begun. We hear of many large hauls and the fish appear to be abundant and run favorably. This trade is destined to become an important one, something more than a mere slang expression.—Id.

TOWNSHIP CLERK.—We have been repeatedly asked, is the Clerk of a township a bonded officer? It seems that, by some oversight in framing the law, he is not required to give bond, notwithstanding that he is Treasurer of the Board of Trustees and holds the school funds in his possession.—Id.

JEFFERSON DAVIS'S TOUR IN SCOTLAND.—The London Standard of the 15th of August chronicles the movements of Jefferson Davis thus:

"Mr. Jefferson Davis is the lion of Glasgow and its vicinity just now, himself and party having established themselves in that city, and made several excursions in the neighborhood. On Wednesday, en route to Glasgow, they passed through Dumfries, and visited the Abbey church and ruins. Mr. Davis then paid a visit to Stirling, and left for Callander in the evening. The news soon spread that the ex-President was in the town, and as he left for train in the evening three hearty cheers were given by the large concourse of people congregated on the platform. Mr. Davis afterwards visited Dollar."

"At Glasgow he visited the Exchange, where, in expectation of a visit, there was a crowded attendance. The assemblage opened a passage in the centre of the hall, up to which Mr. Davis walked, and at the end of the room entered his name in the visitors' book. On leaving the building Mr. Davis was loudly cheered. The shipbuilding yard of the Messrs. Napier & Govan was also visited; after which the party returned to the residence of Mr. Smith, Benvenue, Dowanhill. On Thursday, Mr. Davis, with Dr. Charles Mackay, left Glasgow for Oban. Mr. Smith and a number of friends accompanied him some distance down the Clyde. On leaving the Broomielaw quay where there was a large concourse of persons, Mr. Davis was followed by loud cheers which he acknowledged by raising his hat and bowing repeatedly. A similar demonstration was accorded him at Greenock, Dunoon, Inverness, Rothesay, and Tighenbruid, the crowds who were assembled at the different places exhibiting an eager desire to have a sight of the famous ex-President of the Southern States."

The new Jewish Temple in Cincinnati has just been completed at a cost of $150,000. It is a magnificent building.

The Rev. who tied the Gordon knot for Commodore Vanderbilt got $500.

Letter from Washington.
Correspondence of the Baltimore Gazette.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 30, 1869.

The forthcoming monthly statement of the national finances is to be prepared with as have been their predecessors for the past five months. I fear that the payment of pensions is to be delayed again. Somebody has said that "figures can't lie." In the hands of an ingenious financial minister this aphorism is shown to be very shallow and unworthy of further belief. If it even surmised that by refusing to pay honest debts, and delaying the benefactions of the country, a clear "redemption" of the public indebtedness will be shown upon paper.

It is understood that his Excellency Mr. Boutwell, is even now preparing his "report," the data being sent from the Treasury over the wires to his home in Massachusetts. I take it the only heavy business of the report is in course of preparation—such a suggestion as to the means of prospective resumption of specie payments—the true mode of raising revenue, and the like. He will vehemently (his friends say) insist upon retaining the income tax by proposing to renew the act levying it, which expires next year. But he will more especially spread himself in attempting to prove that we have never before had a Secretary of the Treasury worthy the name; that Hamilton, Gallatin, and even Chase and Fessenden were merely so many asses compared to himself. I hear he will particularly attack the present Chief Justice, and by implication, his immediate successor. There is a conspiracy of unequalled virulence against these men, and if Fessenden is not defeated this winter in Maine, it will not be the fault of Boutwell and Sumner.

I learn from a good source that the proposition of General Canby that the members of the Legislature of Virginia, who "cannot take the oath" shall resign, will be rejected. It is manifest that this rule is merely to gain time, and is the best evidence that the renowned hero is himself doubtful of his power to expel such representatives. What will be gained by the new degradation? Can any one tell? In any event, the whole question of Virginia "reconstruction" will be reviewed by Congress. When will the people of the South understand that disgraceful voluntary submission to the most outrageous demands of the Radical faction are but preludes to other exactions still more enormous and still more humiliating?

Upon inquiry to-day I find that the Government is yet without official intelligence in respect to the disposition of the Chinese treaty by the "Brother of the Sun." The probability is (and this all that can be stated with an appearance of truth) that the recent account of its rejection by that dignitary is at least premature. The Burlingame universal embassy was, however, in its very inception, a stupendous blunder. The thing of its face was as absurdly.

I have no positive information at this writing of the precise time that the citizens of the metropolis may expect to be greeted with the benign and cheerful countenance of our excellent President. I know, however, that many are anxiously awaiting the sunshine of his presence. Stokes is one of the number on the "anxious bench." Mordecai is yet "sitting at the King's gate." An old Texan who is now here (also anxiously expecting the advent of the cousin of the "Brother of the Sun," upon business other than political), tells me that the people of the "lone star" hate about "the bag of the thing," and like it amazingly. They propose to run a clean Democratic ticket, opposed to both Hamilton and Davis. They have determined upon this course for the purpose of diversifying matters a little, and conducting "coffsets" upon other than the "bug" principle, the handle of which is always on one side.

In answer to many inquiries as to where that "carnivorous" of the "Great International Boat Race" may be obtained, I feel authorized so far to trespass upon confidence as to say that all necessary information may be obtained by addressing "Solomon F. F. F.," the proprietor, through the Postoffice.

Mrs. H. E. Lee.

A letter from the Rockbridge Baths to New Orleans Times, gives a very pleasing sketch of the estimable wife of Gen. Lee, which we copy below:

He bathes here are famous for rheumatism and acrofulous diseases. There are many persons who profess to be greatly relieved by them. Among these, I found here Mrs. General Robert E. Lee, whom I had not seen for thirty years. I had known her when a boy, as the belle of Arlington, the daughter of George Washington Parke Curtis, who was the adopted child of George Washington, but no blood relation. Then she was an elegant and attractive young lady, of great affability of manners and personal charms. Alas! I found her greatly changed by time, and still more by disease. The charm of her manners still continues, but her body has been terribly afflicted by rheumatism, which has made her such a cripple that, for some years past, almost from the commencement of the late war, her only locomotion is affected in a chair with wheels, which is moved about by servants. In spite of this affliction she is a most agreeable and cheerful old lady, receives every one with a smile, and converses upon all subjects with great intelligence, vivacity and good humor. There is nothing of the languor, querulousness or discontent of the invalid in her manner or conversation. Her time is occupied in social converse, sewing, writing and playing with her grandchild, a jolly little fellow, the son of Gen. W. H. F. Lee. She is full of energy and industry, and employs herself most assiduously to a late hour of the night sewing for herself and daughters. At present she is engaged in making a dress for herself and one of her daughters, out of some calico sent as a present from the Phoenix Cotton Mills in Georgia. Mrs. Lee, though contented with her situation, and deeply grateful for the many tokens of love and admiration which have been lavished upon her husband and herself, very naturally sighs for her old home at Arlington, from which she has been so ruthlessly and barbarously banished. She expects to close her life amid the scenes of the happy days of her childhood and girlhood. Even this most cherished desire, however, she will cheerfully sacrifice to her dignity and pride, and will never consent to receive back her estates if tendered with any conditions, or as a charitable and merciful concession and favor by the Government which so cruelly devastated and appropriated property bequeathed by her patriotic father, and never legally acquired by the authority which now retains it. Arlington must cease to be a Federal cemetery when the family of Robert E. Lee reoccupy it. The daughter-in-law of Mrs. Lee is here with her, the wife of Gen. W. H. F. Lee, one of the most elegant and beautiful ladies I have seen in Virginia. She was a Miss Bolling, of Petersburg, of the old Bonapartes stock, always famous for beauty and high spirit. Her commanding and elegant figure, her bright and beaming face, and air of mingled dignity, grace and gentleness, would make her, in the largest assembly "the cynosure of all eyes," the observed of all observers."

REMARKABLE ESCAPE.—Mr. Richard W. Shaw, of Lock 26, on the canal, was sitting in his yard playing with a child of nine months old, on Sunday last, when the child crawled behind him suddenly, as if something attracted his attention. Mr. Shaw, on turning around, discovered a huge moose in snake stretched at full length between the arms and knees of the little prattler. Alarmed and excited, he immediately seized the child before the reptile had time to place itself in a striking position, and ran into the house, procured a cup of boiling water, and succeeded in scalding his snake to death as he was making his way into his hole.—Scottsville Register of Saturday.

[This is a choice paragraph. Everybody is interested in snakes—everybody hates them. We have an invincible curiosity to look upon them and observe their actions. But we do not love them by any means. The point in the Register's anecdote is the squalling of the snake—aye, and just as he was about to "escape." That is exquisite. Snakes are cold-blooded creatures, and their death by hot water must be peculiarly excruciating. This is the first instance of that mode of death to the great enemy of man we have heard of—and therefore, the paragraph is rich—richer than anything we have had from Scottsville since the "Moon" mystery.—Dispatch]

THE COMET.—Ivory of the Athens Post has been making astronomical observations, and has seen the Comet, of which he thus discourses:

"Several months ago our correspondent at the National Observatory, Washington, notified us that a comet would make its appearance about the latter part of July. It did appear on time though not exactly in that part of the heavens first named. It may now be seen any clear night east of the north star, but low down on the horizon. As the eccentric wanderer is approaching in the direction of the earth, its train is not visible to the naked eye, but it can be readily distinguished by its varying colors—first pale, then red or purple, and never still. It is very brilliant at times, and presents a beautiful appearance. Its speed is computed at several thousand miles a minute, and in a few days its train will be conspicuously visible. When you hear the whistle, look out for the engine."

To Prevent Horses Being Chafed by Harness.

Great care should be taken during the warm weather of summer to prevent horses being chafed by the harness. There are several ways to do this. First keep your horse in good healthy condition; clean skin with plenty of flesh between it and the bone. Second, keep your harness soft and pliable. And third, use him moderately, and give the skin a good cleaning after using him, every time. Much also depends on having the harness fit properly. See that the collar is neither too large nor too small, and that the harness are of the right length and shape; giving an even pressure on the collar. Keep the face of the collar clean and free from inequalities.

It is a very unsightly picture to see a horse with sore shoulders and other parts of the hide worn off by the harness. The owner or driver of such a team ought to be ashamed of himself.—American Stock Journal.

Lawlessness exists in some portions of Arkansas. The Washington Post says: "Our sister county was visited week before last, by a band of freebooters and thieves, among whom it is reported was the notorious Col. Griffith, Parson Hunt, Rodgers and Edwards, the murderers of Griffin in Sevier county, and several other kindred spirits, numbering in all some ten or twelve gentlemen of the road." They ran off considerable stock.

A double execution took place at Waco, Texas, on the 18th. The Register, of that city, says: "Clarke Jones and Young Nelson were hung yesterday at Marlin. Jones declared that he was innocent to the last. A young lady defied the Sheriff to place the rope around Jones' neck. Jones' male friends did not witness the execution. They sent word to the Sheriff that they could not witness it without making an attempt to rescue them, and that would be useless."

When Gen. Grant was at Newport on Tuesday, he expressed a desire to be introduced to Ida Lewis, and she came over in her boat, and met him on the wharf. The President then made the following speech: "I am happy to meet you, Miss Lewis, as one of the heroic, noble women of the age. I regret my engagements have been such as not to allow me to call on you at your home. Farewell."

Men sometimes think that the high, dark cliffs of sorrow will darken their stream of life for ever; but upon the green and undulating meadows spread far away in pastoral beauty, and the daisies bloom along the banks where the willows hang in blending gracefulness.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

A book by General Lee will awaken such special interest, that we are glad to call attention to it. The UNIVERSITY PUBLISHING COMPANY of No. 4 Bond Street, New York, announce that they have now in press, and will issue in a few weeks, "Memoirs of the War," by Gen. Henry Lee, thoroughly revised and corrected by Gen. R. E. Lee who has added, also, an entirely new biography of his father, prepared by him from private and personal materials never before used. It will be a large and handsome octavo volume, illustrated by new steel portraits of Gen. Henry Lee and Gen. Nathaniel Greene; beautiful steel engravings of "Marion Crossing the Pedee," and the "Surrender of Cornwallis," and five original maps and plans. Our readers need not be told that this is a work of great interest and value. It is the standard history of military operations at the South during the revolutionary war, and as such is a book which every reading man should possess; but its interest and value are both greatly increased by Gen. Robert E. Lee's thorough revision and correction, and by the valuable biography of his father which he has written and added to it.

We are sure that this announcement, alone, is sufficient to give the book a very great sale, but when we add that Gen. Lee is personally interested in its publication, such a sale is made certain.

As we learn that the book is to be sold by circulating agents only, those who desire to engage in its sale should make early application to the publishers.

A Regular Habit of Body.

Is absolutely essential to physical health and absence of disease. No truth all. Health of persons cannot co-exist with an unnatural condition of the bowels. A free passage of the refuse matter of the system through these natural waste pipes, is as necessary to the purity of the body as the free passage of the oil of a city through its sewers is necessary to the health of its inhabitants.

Indigestion is the primary cause of most of the diseases of the discharging organs, and one of its most common results is constipation. This complaint, besides being dangerous in itself, has many disagreeable concomitants, such as an unpleasant breath, a yellow skin, contaminated blood and bile, hemorrhoids, headache, loss of memory, and general debility.

HOPKIN'S STOMACH BITTERS remove all these evils by removing their immediate cause in the digestive organs, and regulating the action of the intestines. The combination of properties in this celebrated preparation is one of its chief merits. It is not merely a stimulant, or a tonic, or an anti-bilious agent, or a nervine, or a blood purifier, or a cathartic, but all these curative elements judiciously blended in one powerful restorative. It lends activity and vigor to the inert and enervated stomach, relieves the alimentary canal of its obstructions, and gives tone to the membrane which lines it, gently stimulates the liver, braces the nerves, and cheers the animal spirits. No other remedy possesses such a variety of hygienic virtues. It is to those characteristics that it owes its prestige as a household medicine. Experience has proved that it is as harmless as it is efficacious, and hence it is as popular with the weaker sex as with the stronger.

HOPKIN'S STOMACH BITTERS is sold in bottles only, and the trade-mark blown in the glass and engraved on the label, with our steel engraved revenue stamp over the cork, is the test of genuineness. Beware of counterfeits.

TRADE-MARK. A bottle of Hopkin's Stomach Bitters, with the label and revenue stamp, is the test of genuineness. Beware of counterfeits.

ANOTHER In the after-noon, of P. M. offered for sale, grown in which was Macaulay & Randleman Point, N. C.

COUNTY CONVENTION.

At the solicitation of many citizens, we announce that a convention to nominate a successor to the late Judge Jas. W. Osborne in the Senate, will be held in the Court House in this city, on Tuesday the 14th inst., at 11 o'clock. Each Township is earnestly requested to hold a meeting and send delegates. The Republicans are thoroughly drilled and will bring out their strongest man. The Conservatives must act wisely and judiciously in making their choice, and to do so a full meeting is necessary.

NORTH CAROLINA MILITARY INSTITUTE.—A meeting of the Stockholders of the N. C. Military Institute will be held in the Court House, to-day, the 3d inst., at 5 o'clock, P. M.

NEW COTTON.—The first new bale was sold in this market yesterday. It was grown on Col. Rawlinson's plantation, York county, S. C., and consigned to Messrs. Carson & Grier, by Messrs. London & Jones, of Rock Hill, S. C., and purchased by Messrs. Stenhouse, Macaulay & Co., at 85 cents per pound, for the Randleman Manufacturing Co., High Point, N. C. The crop seems to be more forward this year as the first bale last season was brought in on the 10th of September. Charlotte is again ahead of Raleigh as the first bale there brought 84 c; and fully up to Wilmington and New Bern, although they are right on the coast.

ANOTHER.—FROM THIS COUNTRY.—In the afternoon, 2d inst., Mr. E. C. Grier, of Providence settlement, offered the first bale of new cotton grown in this county this season, which was purchased by Stenhouse, Macaulay & Co., at 85 cents; for the Randleman Manufacturing Co., High Point, N. C.

TRADE.—A number of our merchants, have already left for the North, with the intention of laying in stocks, from which many a wholesale bill may be advantageously selected. Each season the trade of the city extends, and till now there is scarcely a neighborhood West of us, or in Southwest or North or South Carolina, but what makes their purchases here. This season a larger preparation has been made by our wholesale dealers to accommodate this trade.

Yesterday friend Sprinkle, of the Catawba House, sent us a most delectable and refreshing beverage, concocted in the best manner and of his very best material, which we enjoyed as it deserved to be. Sprinkle keeps a good assortment and knows how to fix them up to please the most fastidious.

Fair weather.—The change yesterday was pleasant as it was unexpected. In the morning fire was kindled and found very comfortable.

The following advice is given by a medical publication: "Never enter a sick room in a moment of perspiration, as the moment you become cool your pores absorb. Do not approach contagious disease with an empty stomach; nor sit between the sick and the fire, because the heat attracts the vapor."

BUTTON HOLES ON BOTH SIDES.

A gentleman in Charleston, who entertained a good deal of company at dinner, had a black as an attendant, who was a native of Africa, and never could be taught to hand things invariably to the left hand of the guests at the table. At length his master thought of an infallible expedient to direct him, and as the hosts were then worn in Charleston single-breasted, in the present quaker fashion, he told him always to hand the plate to the button-hole side. Unfortunately, however, for the poor fellow, on the day after he had received this ingenious lesson there was among the guests at dinner a foreign gentleman with a double-breasted coat, and he was for a while completely at a stand. He looked first at one side of the gentleman's coat, then at the other, and finally, quite confounded at the outlandish make of the stranger's garment, he cast a despairing look at his master, and exclaiming in a loud voice, "buttons on both sides, massa," handed the plate right over the gentleman's head.

Bulwer is now seldom in the House of Lords. He is an old man, looks gone, as if his day was done. He has quit writing, come down from the clouds of romance, and walks the plain old earth, "gloomy and unhappy."

Late advices from England state that the Oxford boat crew have expressed a willingness to challenge the Harvard to another rowing match, to take place somewhere in New England next summer. Prominent aquatic sportsmen have interested themselves in the matter, and an offer has been made in New York to pay all the expenses of the English crew during their visit to this country, should they agree to the arrangement. It is probable, therefore, that the international boat race excitement will be repeated next year, when the extreme closeness of the recent contest will have the effect of largely increasing the interest in the result.

The Hon. C. L. Woodbury, of Boston, President of the Massachusetts Democratic State Convention, struck a salient point in politics when he said: "The fact that man is capable of self-government must be acknowledged. No man is his brother's keeper. In Massachusetts and in the Union the great question for the people was, should the American continent be ruled by American people? He claimed that it should be, and that the Monroe doctrine should have a wider interpretation. He advocated the immediate freedom of the Canadas and of Cuba from their European subjection, looking to their ultimate annexation to the United States."

ONE DROP AT A TIME.—Have you ever watched an icicle as it formed? You noticed how it froze one drop at a time until it was a foot long or more. If the water was clear, and the icicle remained clear, and sparkled brightly in the sun; but if the water was but slightly muddy, the icicle looked foul, and its beauty was spoiled. Just so our characters are forming. One little thought or feeling at a time adds its influence. It every thought be pure and right, the soul will be lovely, and will sparkle with happiness; but if impure and wrong, there will be final deformity and wretchedness.

Horace Maynard, and other leading Tennessee radicals held a secret meeting at Nashville, recently, having in view, it is thought, the reorganization of the party in the State, and probably a violent filibustering movement upon the State Government.
